DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election with traverse of Group II (claims 9-11, 24 and 25) in the reply filed on 11/02/07 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that a search of the non-elected inventions would not be an undue burden. This is not found persuasive because the variously claimed inventions are separately classified, being drawn to separate statutory categories of inventions, and, accordingly, a search of the elected article claims does not necessarily entail a search of the non-elected method and composition claims. Therefore, claims 9-11, 24 and 25 will be treated on the merits and claims 1-8 and 12-23 are withdrawn from consideration as being directed to a non-elected invention.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Information Disclosure Statement

2. The information disclosure statement filed 06/17/05 has been considered and made of record.

Claim Objections

3. Claims 9 and 10 are objected to because of the following informalities: it appears that the word "comprising" at line 3 should be --comprises--. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claims 9-11, 24, and 25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

6. The term "relative oxide or nitride imbalance" in claims 9-11, 24, and 25 is unclear, rendering the claims indefinite. While the term is defined in the specification with respect to starting material powders which may be used to prepare the claimed coatings (see page 3, third full paragraph), the term is not defined with respect to the characteristic intended in the claimed coatings. The term could, for instance, connote that the areas are relative to stoichiometric spinel, i.e., that the spinel is doped, that the areas are relative to other areas in the coating, or that the areas are deficient with respect to the substrate. The meaning, however, cannot be ascertained and, accordingly, the scope of the claims cannot be reasonably determined.

7. Claims 24 and 25 provide for the use of spinel having regions of relative oxide or nitride imbalance, but, since the claim does not set forth any steps involved in the method/process, it is unclear what method/process applicant is intending to encompass. A claim is indefinite where it merely recites a use without any active, positive steps delimiting how this use is actually practiced.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

8. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

9. Claims 24 and 25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed recitation of a use, without setting forth any steps involved in the process, results in an improper definition of a process, i.e., results in a claim which is not a proper process claim under 35 U.S.C. 101. See for example Ex parte Dunki, 153 USPQ 678 (Bd.App. 1967) and Clinical Products, Ltd. v. Brenner, 255 F. Supp. 131, 149 USPQ 475 (D.D.C. 1966).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

10. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

11. Claims 9-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Takabatake (USPN 3,927,223).

12. Takabatake teaches spinel coatings formed on metal substrates, wherein the spinels may be doped with metal oxides (col. 2, line 67 to col. 3, line 3, for instance). Since the dopant distribution will not be perfectly homogeneous in the starting powders, it is the Examiner's position that the resultant films will exhibit regions of relative oxide imbalance, as presently claimed. Regarding the claimed physical properties of the films, e.g., defect zones and oriented grain boundaries, the films of Takabatake are made by plasma spraying, as recited in the present claims, and, accordingly, are considered to meet these claim characteristics.
